

Your Oils & Greases Specialist

Lamberts can source all major UK brands of lubricants, whilst ensuring the most appropriate products are supplied to match our customers requirements.

This provides our customers with total maintenance solutions, taking into consideration the OEM/MRO requirements and getting the optimum life out of their resources and equipment.

For over 55 years, we have developed long-term relationships with many reputable suppliers of lubricants, including Shell UK. They spend $1.3 billion on research and development each year, ensuring technology leadership and bringing key relationships with leading OEMs.

Lamberts can also offer a wide range of food grade lubricant brands, such as Fuchs Cassida, Rocol and Ambersil. The food industry demands specialist NSF approved lubricants in packs available from stock and specialist technical support to ensure lubrication compliance during audits. Finally, we can help with food industry lubrication surveys, lubrication compliance manuals, storage and dispensing solutions.

Your Fasteners & Fixings Specialist

Lamberts supplies medium to high volume assemblies to the MRO and OEM's market places in the East Anglian region with fasteners and fixings.

Our customers demand consistent quality, price and availability in order to supply engineering assemblies, work base stations, electrical enclosures, pipeline assemblies, business machines and other equipment, often across multiple customer sites.

Over 50% of our fastener sales come from multi-site factories and OEM's. We carry 'preferred supplier' status for the majority of our customers. This enables us to replicate the services that we provide regionally to all of our customers with accuracy, speed and reliability.
